

Takorama

International Film Festival

An online festival for children around the world
The festival is completely free and without advertising.

The objective of the festival is to allow children to discover new films promoting the values of solidarity, respect and sustainable development, new stories, new visual universes and to give their opinion, to vote for their favorite film. The festival is also an opportunity for all students to continue school activities at home and stay in touch with the teachers in the context of the COVID-19 lockdown.